Ragging: A Serious Concern in Educational Institutions

Ragging is a grave offense and a prevalent menace within educational institutions, characterized by various forms of abuse, harassment, and humiliation inflicted on new students by their senior counterparts. To address this issue, our institution has established an Anti-Ragging Committee dedicated to fostering a ragging-free environment.

Dr. Thippeswamy H N, Principal and Chairman, has taken the initiative to raise awareness among first-year students by providing a comprehensive explanation of the anti-ragging measures in place.

Objectives of the Anti-Ragging Committee

The main objectives of the Anti-Ragging Committee are as follows:

1. To prevent any ragging activities on campus.
2. To educate students about the detrimental effects of ragging.
3. To create a safe and supportive atmosphere for newcomers.
4. To address complaints related to ragging and take appropriate actions.

Activities Implemented

The committee has undertaken several key activities, including:

- Conducting detailed sessions on anti-ragging policies during the orientation program for new students.
- Informing newcomers about their rights and the protective measures available against ragging.
- Launching a 24/7 helpline that allows students to report any incidents of ragging anonymously.
- Carrying out regular inspections in canteens and other common areas to monitor for suspicious activities.
- Installing CCTV cameras in critical locations to enhance surveillance and deter potential ragging incidents.
- Offering counseling services for victims of ragging to assist them in coping with trauma and rebuilding their confidence.
- Organizing peer support groups to cultivate a sense of community and mutual assistance among students.
- Enforcing strict disciplinary actions against individuals found guilty of ragging, including suspension and expulsion.
