LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

I am delighted to recommend Miss. Shalini R for MS degree at your esteemed institution. She has been my student for the last three semesters and I have taught her subjects like Operating System, Computer Organization, Computer Graphics, and Computer Networks. She is a good student when it comes to hard work and overall motivation.

A sincere, highly intelligent, and responsible student, Shalini has successfully maintained an excellent academic record in the courses taught by me. She has been among the few such students who have completed all assignments before their deadlines and with optimal scores. Her performance is driven by her clarity of fundamentals and basic concepts, enabling her to swiftly latch onto new topics and fields with ease.

Data Structures & Sorting and Searching are vital tools comprising programming language foundations. She has handled the same impeccably. Shalini has always come up with novel methods of applying the concepts as demonstrated while handling a new project on Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning in her 6th semester.

She has always been highly active throughout the technical circuit of the institution, being part of the team that built software for the following purpose – Online Attendance Management using Face Id and Biometrics using the programming language Python.

She has participated and won the Winner Certificate in a Technical Debate competition conducted by Brainium, a technical forum of the Department of Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning, BMSIT&M, making us really proud. I would also like to add that she participated in various State-Level Hackathons and received appreciation certificates for her outstanding presentation of the solution to the problem statement.

She was also a team member in the Content Department for the most prestigious college newsletter, Tech Samachar. She individually edited various sections of the newsletter and was also in-charge of the Research and Development category in the same.

She has always been an independent thinker, striving to learn new things, while displaying huge promise through her penchant to delve beyond the scope of the curriculum. She has always kept herself updated regarding current developments while minutely examining all technical literature likewise. Her leadership qualities are impressive, having organized and managed the event Chronicles held in the month of May 2022 in our campus. It was received with profound appreciation and enthusiasm by peers and juniors for her efforts. She proudly took an initiative and came up with outstanding plan to help promote the event by editing a promo video all by herself.

A student who believes in working hard and maximizing her capabilities Shalini will be striving to fulfill all her responsibilities. Her continual zeal towards learning and self-growth along with superior skills of time management will surely take her a long way in the future. I strongly recommend her for admission into your institution.

Sincerely,
